International
Korean Adoptee Program?

This Program is a non-profit educational institution attached to Inje University. The program was founded in 2001 and has hosted over 250 Korean Adoptees from all around the world. The program was created as a way for International Korean Adoptees (over 18 years) to return to Korea and learn more about Korean language, history, and culture. Though overseas Koreans from immigrant families are also welcome.
